

ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to uses of a substance having oxytocin antagonistic properties and to methods of 5 treatment comprising administration of a pharmaceutically effective amount of said substance.